It also should contain other information such as the name of the student; AISSCE roll number; subject name and subject code.

Certificate

This page will contain a certificate that will certify your project.

It will have information like your project title, your name, roll number, guide teacher's name, along with space for signature of the guide teacher and external practical examiner.

Acknowledgement

The page acknowledges individuals that have played a direct or indirect role in completing your project work.

Table of Contents

This page contains all the major headings and sub headings of your project.

It should contain the respective page numbers also.

Objective / Aim of the project

This page expresses the aim of the project as clearly as possible.

Introduction / Theory

This should give a general idea of the project that you have worked on and should introduce the reader to your project'

Materials required

In this page all the materials or apparatus used are mentioned.

Procedure

In a simple manner, write the steps that you have followed during your experiment/ investigation. You may include a diagram or photo of the experimental setup.

Observation / Result

Once the experiment is performed you should record your observations.

You can represent your observations in the form of a table or chart or text or pictures or a combination of these

Analysis and interpretation

Based on the observations, analyse your data.

Precaution

Mention all the precautions that should be followed during the experiment.

3. Develop at least 20 questions on data analysis and 10 questions on data visualization
4. All programs can be written in colab file.

CLASS XII – COMPUTER SCIENCE

Create a Project to develop something practical and beneficial using Python file handling or Python-SQL connectivity. This project should be completed in groups of two to three students and initiated at least six months before the submission deadline. The primary objective is to identify and solve a real-world problem.

For instance, if a business struggles with generating invoices for GST claims, students could create a project that processes raw data (transaction lists), categorizes the transactions, applies the appropriate GST rates, and generates the necessary invoices.

Creativity is highly encouraged. Students can use various Python libraries to develop user-friendly applications, including games, school-related software, tools for assisting disabled peers, and mobile apps. Some projects may require additional learning, which should be supported and encouraged. It's essential for students to develop self-learning skills.

Students must avoid plagiarism and respect copyright laws while working on their projects. Teachers should ensure these guidelines are followed.
